

Too much to do? Let Agencia ease the pressure with short term capacity support

Are you:

- Struggling to get everything done?
- Worried about how you're going to manage your workload?
- Lying awake at night thinking there 'just aren't enough hours in the day'?
- In need of an extra pair of hands for one day, or a year?

Agencia can provide short term, "hands on" support to get you through this busy time.

With over 16 years' experience we are a well-established 'safe pair of hands'. Our capacity and expertise means that we can provide you with individuals (or a team) with a range of expertise including:

- Service/system redesign
- Financial
- Managerial
- Clinical
- Administrative
- Legal
- Procurement and commissioning

Guaranteed to provide:

Genuine advice and support on workload management, identification of work gaps and areas which need to be addressed.

Skilled consultants to carry out any necessary work you require, including full project management.

A personalised service. We are not a large anonymous organisation, so all our clients get quality attention and your best efforts.

Peace of mind. Your work doesn't have to be hard, it can even be fun with the right support.
